

Privacy and security are most important for the college to avoid potential hacks and protect student's information. I would again use Kanban approach as the principles and properties can be set in advance, the backlog can be prioritized by the team lead and work with the QA's and developers in order to develop the requirements. Software coupling will need to be tight in order to ensure that the connection between the components is strong.